

DAVID HART
GALLERIES

MEDIA RELEASE

22 October 2007

Launch of Pro Hart's Biography and Exhibition opening

Photo Opportunity

Official launch 6pm Friday 26 October

With celebrations continuing over the weekend - 27 / 28 October

Son and author, David Hart is available to have image taken with new book.

"Dying to be heard" written by Pro Hart's son, David Hart details a life of success, betrayal and tragedy. This is a very personal perspective of a father who was anything but ordinary. The launch of the biography at David Hart Galleries Mooloolaba and Noosa will be held over the weekend of 27 / 28 October. As well as the book launch, an exhibition of Pro Hart's work will also be shown until 4 November.

The weekend provides the opportunity to speak candidly with David about his father and have a copy of the new book signed for Christmas. "My father was without doubt one of the greatest artists in our nation's history. He had a unique view of the world – he was definitely anti-establishment," says son David.

Unlike books written by 'the establishment' about Pro Hart's work, "Dying to be Heard" takes us on a journey with Pro Hart - the man. The book features personal life photographs and special anecdotes recorded before Pro passed away 18 months ago.

The weekend celebrations will include book signings, artists at work, music and champagne. "It is a great time to visit the gallery, as we have a great collection of Pro's work on display as well as some new artists to the gallery," says David.

For full details contact:

Helen Perry
Marketing Manager
David Hart Galleries
0431 065 964